

This document lists functionality that is available in Research.gov but is not available on the DEMO site.

- Creating, editing, viewing, and submitting Project Outcomes Reports
- Searching Thompson Web of Science for journal publications
  - The demo site will always return the same sample result regardless of the search criteria entered
- Viewing Approved Annual and Final Reports
  - The demo site will display a PDF without any report content
- Viewing report completion progress via the Progress Indicator
  - The demo site will display a sample indicator but it does not reflect the completeness of the demo report
- Checking for report completeness
  - The demo site will display a sample screen of missing fields but it does not reflect the missing fields from the demo report
- Navigating the site using the following links in the banner and footer: “Contact Us”, “Logout”, and “Privacy Policy”
- Generating PDFs for display in eJacket upon report submission
- Sending emails to PIs/ Co-PIs and Participants
  - The demo site will not send any confirmation emails upon report submission or report recall, and it will not send participant demographic emails.
- Searching for a report by Institution for an SPO associated to multiple institutions